

FINAL PLANS MADE FOR EXERCISES ON CLASS DAY, JUNE 15

Program Includes Speeches
By Members of Class
Of 1929.

FAMOUS ORCHESTRA TO PLAY FOR BALL

Committee Engages "Ernie"
Andrews and His Musicians.

Plans for two of the most important events of Senior Week are rapidly nearing completion, according to a recent announcement by Raymond J. Saulnier '29, Chairman of the Senior Week Committee. Under the direction of the respective committees most of the details of the class day exercises and of the Senior Ball have been arranged.

The Class Day exercises will take place Saturday morning, June 15, at 10:00 a. m. on the lower campus. In accordance with the usual custom, platforms and seats will be erected on the lawn in front of Old Chapel. The procession of seniors will form at Warner Science Hall at 10:00 o'clock, and will be led to the scene of activities by the Junior Marshals. Richard J. Humeston '30, and Alice Guest '30 have been elected to serve in that capacity. The order of the class day exercises will follow very nearly that of previous years. First there will be the address of welcome given by the class president, Carl G. Sorensen. Following this, Frank Dewitt will read the class history, while Raymond Bosworth and Lara T. Wheaton will give the class prophecy. Raymond J. Saulnier will deliver the class oration, and Gretchen Taylor will be the essayist. Paul Burns and Elizabeth McDermott will read the class will, and Mary E. Burtis the class poem. Following the speeches and addresses there will be the tree dedication. Albert E. Willis will preside at this ceremony. The exercises will close with the members of the graduating class seated around the newly dedicated tree, smoking the senior "peace pipe".

The committee in charge of the arrangements for class day is composed of Stillman F. Kelley, chairman, and John J. Sheehan, Mary Tudhope, and Mary E. Burtis.

Saturday afternoon the varsity baseball nine will meet St. Lawrence on Porter Field at 3:30 p. m. This will be the last game of the season and the final Middlebury appearance for several members of the team.

The principal event scheduled for Saturday evening is a concert on the campus by the College Band and the Glee Club of the Men's College. After the completion of the musical program, there will be an informal dance in the McCullough Gymnasium. This dance will be open free of charge to alumni, their guests and to undergraduates.

The following Sunday evening the annual step singing at Pearsons Hall will take place.

The final and one of the most important of the events of Commencement Week will be the Senior Ball. This colorful affair will be held at the

President Moody Receives First Copy of Kaleidoscope

The first copy of the 1930 Kaleidoscope was presented in chapel this morning to President Moody, by Frank A. Chromec '30, Editor-in-Chief of the annual.

The business staff of the Kaleidoscope announces that distribution to members of the Junior Class will begin next Tuesday, the time and place to be posted on the bulletin boards.

Pattee and Saulnier Win Wetherell Debating Prizes

The Wetherell Prizes for debating were presented by President Moody to Sam W. Pattee '29, and Raymond J. Saulnier '29 at Chapel Tuesday. The prizes are made possible by the establishment of a fund in 1922 as a memorial to Professor Archibald D. Wetherell by his friends and admirers. The income from the fund is awarded annually in prizes to the two members of the men's college "showing the greatest interest and proficiency in debating".

Mr. Pattee won a first Parker Prize engaged in varsity debating four years, winning the first Lawrence and first Wetherell Prizes last year, and was manager of debate during the past season.

Mr. Saulnier won the first Lawrence Prize, awarded each year to the best speaker taking part in the Middlebury-Vermont, March last, and has engaged in many student activities.

SWIFT PLAYS GIVEN ON THURSDAY NIGHT

Bosworth, Deedman, and Lawson Are Prize
Winners.

Raymond Bosworth '29 of West Haven, Conn., won the $75 first prize for the best of the four plays produced in the annual Swift Playwriting Contest. The title of Mr. Bosworth's winning play was "The Judgement of Maris". Second prize of $50 was awarded to Donald Deedman '29 of New Rochelle, N. Y., for his "Man Alive". Arthur H. Lawson '30 of Forboro, Mass., won third prize of $25 with "Boloney".

The presentation of prize awards was made immediately following the production of the plays and the decision of the judges, by Miss Marion Swift, a niece of the donor of the awards. The judges for the contest were Professor Frank W. Cady, chairman and President Paul D. Moody and Professor H. G. Owen.

ALUMNI SECRETARY TO SECURE TICKETS FOR VISITING GRADS

Commencement Visitors
To Be Accomodated
In Dormitories.

The office of the Alumni Secretary desires to be of the utmost service to seniors as well as returning alumni and will be glad to render all possible assistance in making reservations and securing tickets for the various events which are scheduled on the Commencement program. After 2 P. M. Friday, June 14, and throughout Commencement, the Secretary's office and Alumni Headquarters will be located in the Egbert Starr Library. A limited number of guests of seniors can be accommodated in the college dormitories, and the office will be glad to assist others in finding places in the village. A charge of $1.50 a day per person will be made for those rooming in the dormitories. Meals will be furnished at the following rates: Breakfast, $40; Lunch, $50; and Dinner, $75.

Seniors of the Women's College wishing to entertain relatives or other guests during Commencement should file requests not later than June 10, in the office of the Dean of Women.

Men of the Senior class who desire accommodations for guests should file requests in the office of the Alumni Headquarters in the Egbert Starr Library immediately on arrival in Middlebury. Keys will be assigned there.

Tickets for Commencement Exercises.

Prof. R. H. White, Commencement Marshal, announces that each Senior is entitled to two tickets for the Commencement Exercises at the Congregational Church on June 17. These tickets will be distributed at the Alumni Headquarters at the College Library after 2:30 P. M. Friday, June 14. Each Senior will please apply personally for his allotment. Limitation of

Raymond Bosworth '29 Wins Swift Essay Prize

Raymond Bosworth '29 has been awarded the 1929 George Sedgwick Swift essay prize, according to an announcement made in chapel this morning by President Moody. The prize is $500 and is awarded annually to the member of the men's college who writes the best 2500 word theme on the subject, "The World Does Not Owe Me a Living."

Mr. Bosworth has been active in student activities.

President Moody also announced that the judges gave honorable mention to the essay submitted by Reamer Kline '32.

OPTIMA PRIZE GOES TO LOUISE DROWNE

Junior Woman Chosen First in Character, Scholarship Personality.

Louise J. Drowne '30 was awarded the Optima Prize yesterday morning in Chapel by President Paul D. Moody. The Optima Prize is the highest tribute the Junior Class can offer to one of its members for it is granted to the girl who receives the vote of the class and of a faculty committee as the ideal Middlebury girl judging from character, scholarship, and personality.

Miss Drowne beside maintaining a high grade of scholarship has participated widely in extra curricular activities. She is President of Student Government, Vice President of the Junior Class, and was a member of the Junior Prom Committee. Her interest in Y. W. C. A. has been strong and she has been a member of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet for two years, and is Associate Editor of the 1932 Handbook. Her other activities include being delegate to Panhellenic Council in her Junior year and House Chairman in her Sophomore year, and membership in the Spanish and Dramatic clubs. She is affiliated with Alpha Xi Delta fraternity.

COLLEGE ANNOUNCES CHANGES IN FACULTY FOR NEXT SEMESTER

New Instructors in C. C.,
Latin, French, and Spanish Departments.

KINGSLEY TO SPEND SABBATICAL ABROAD

Prof. Cornwall to be Head of the Department of Political Science.

The fall semester will find several changes in the faculty of different departments of the college. In the Sociology department Professor M. Taylor Mathews who is now doing graduate work at Columbia, will fill the vacancy created by the absence of Professor Kingsley, who is planning to spend his Sabbatical year in Europe. Professor Kingsley will sail about the twenty-fourth of August and expects to spend several months in England, France, Italy and Germany. Dr. Mathews will have charge of the men's Contemporary Civilization courses, of which there will be four sections rather than the two of this year. Professor Sholes will have complete charge of the department.

The Latin department will retain Professor Dame who came this last year on a one year appointment to take the place of Dr. Burrage. Dr. Burrage who has been traveling in Europe during the past year will return to his position as Professor of Greek.

Professor Cornwall will have charge of the Political Science department which for the last fifteen years has been under the direction of the late Dr. Abbott.

In the Spanish department too, there will be several changes. Professor Lacalle, who has been in the Spanish department of Rutgers College during the past year is returning to New Brunswick next year where he will be a permanent member of the faculty. He is to be replaced by Dr. Concha who is coming to Middlebury from Yale University. Assistant Professor Ebaugh has been at Middlebury this year on a one year appointment only replacing Professor Lacalle. Next year Miss Martin, who is now a graduate assistant in the Spanish department will be retained as an instructor.

Coach Clogston who has been at Middlebury this year filling the vacancy created by the absence of Coach Brown, is leaving next year for the University of St. Lawrence where he will be head coach. Coach Brown who has been teaching at Whittier College, California, during the past year, will return to the Physical Education department here.

The French department, too, will undergo a considerable change. Mlle. Bideaud, who has been Assistant Professor of French and Directress of the Chateau for the past two years, is resigning at the close of this academic year. She will be replaced by Mlle. Lea Binand, at present Head of the French Department at the Walker School, Simsbury, Conn. Mlle. Binand has the Brevet Supérieur, and has studied and taught in England. She was for three years Head of the French Department at Tudor Hall, Indianapolis and is completing her fourth year at the Walker

A SUBSIDY.

When Dean Hazeltine spoke to the men in chapel the other morning telling them about the new basis of scholarship awards to make it more clearly understood, he rather took the thunder from this editorial, but it still seems to be a subject of controversy, and if it is put in "black and white" maybe those who are still in doubt will understand better.

The new system of awarding scholarships is highly commendable in that it will eliminate the awarding of remuneration to those who are not deservant of it. Many have received the scholarships in the past who were of little value to the college except that they counted that many more on the enrollment list. And now, more attention will be paid to those who are a credit to the institution and have proved it by their scholarship and achievement in extra-curricular activities.

The basis of the scholarships will be: need, scholarship and extra-curricular activities. Athletics will be on par with other activities but will not necessarily be preferred; there will be no discrimination. In regard to scholarship, the policy will be to give those with high marks and few outside activities the same rating as the persons with more outside activity and lower grades. Those below a certain average will be eligible for a scholarship loan but not for a scholarship. This feature will be an incentive to get good grades and the other points mentioned will also foster better scholarship.

On the whole the new plan is much more desirable than the old. It gives everyone who needs help a chance to get it providing he shows the scholarship Committee that he deserves it. If this is not successful he can still get a loan.

WHO KNOWS?

Recently one of the fraternities was refused permission to turn their house over to the out of town guests for their annual formal dance. The refusal, it seems, was based on a number of things and in the opinion of the Student Life Committee the things in favor were outweighed by the unfavorable. They were perfectly justified in their decision in view of the fact that they understood the case only as it was presented to them.

Who knows the desirability of such a request better than the house directly concerned? Wouldn't it be better, if in the future, such a question was left entirely in the hands of the fraternity? It is certainly evident that some more congenial plan could or should be worked out.

MORE PROGRESS.

As you read this line (if anyone ever does) you will be through with classes for the year with the exception of a few exams—"revenge" or "disasters" as some professors put it.

This idea of closing school for a few days before the first examination is a fine thing and is just another step in making Middlebury a more progressive institution. In Harvard it is done to a much larger extent and it is hoped that this year is the beginning of a similar plan here. It gives students a week or two for conferences with their professors and if necessary, a chance to finish their term work before examination time.

Delta Upsilon Holds Its Annual Dinner Dance

The annual formal dinner dance of the Middlebury Chapter of Delta Upsilon was held last Saturday evening at the Chapter House.

The patrons and patronesses were Professor and Mrs. Perley C. Votey, Mr. and Mrs. V. Spencer Goodreds, and Mrs. Maude C. Mason. Guests of the fraternity were Edward F. Landon, Alpha Sigma Phi; Warren R. Witt, Beta Kappa; Robert L. Meader, Beta Psi; Gordon L. Douglas, Chi Psi; John Owen, Delta Kappa Epsilon; Thad R. Jackson, Sigma Phi Epsilon; and James C. Thompson and Dean Burt A. Hazeltine. Fifty couples were in attendance and entertainment was furnished by the Williams Purple Knights Orchestra.

Swift Prize Plays Are Presented Thursday Night

The prize winning "Judgement of Maris" was the second presentation of the evening. The story centers around the love of two carnival "barkers" or "speelers", for the same girl, but the latter eventually solves the dilemma by eloping with a third gentleman, on funds borrowed from the two disappointed suitors. The entire plot development is worked out with the most consummate skill and cleverness, and the rapid succession of unexpected occurrences held the rapt attention of the audience throughout the performance. Elbert Henry '30 and Sam W. Pattee '29, the two "speelers", put on one of the most interesting pieces of acting ever seen at the Playhouse. However it is our humble opinion that Mr. Pattee got a little the better of the verbal duel. Mary Alice Drake '29, in the title role, added another creditable performance to her record, although at times it seemed that she overdraw some of the effects of the part. Charles Honsbeger '30, as Snake, the fortunate dark horse suitor, did not put quite enough feeling into his portrayal during the first few minutes of the play, but later this difficulty was overcome.

"Man Alive", by Donald Deedman '29 was the third play presented. The story is not so light and frivolous as were those of the three preceding productions, and perhaps it would have been well to have produced the play earlier in the program while the audience was in a better mood to appreciate the significance of the plot developments. The story centers around a young stock broker who has made a rather unfortunate deal on the "street", and decides that perhaps the best thing for him to do is to put a bullet through his head and end it all. However he is interrupted by a taxi driver, who is a bad man on the side, and this latter person relieves our friend the broker of what money he has, and even threatens to handle the little matter of the broker's passage to the next world. However it all comes out nicely in the end, and the hero decides not to kill himself after all. Folke Gruggel '29, as the taxi driver gave the best performance of the play, although occasionally he slightly exaggerated the requirements of the part. Donald Deedman '29 and E. Parker Calvert '31, both gave excellent performances, and contributed to the success of the production.

Arthur Lawson's "Boloney" was in some respects the most interesting of the evening's offerings. It was a light and amusing little comedy with the scene laid before a lake in the park of almost any city. The set deserves special mention, for it was one of the cleverest of the evening. The play abounds in "scintillating superficial cynicisms", (if you will permit us to quote a previous commentator in this column). Fraternities, colleges, and

Plans Completed For Class Day Exercises

Gymnasium, Monday evening, June 15, at 9:00 p. m. Music will be furnished by "Ernie" Andrews and his orchestra, one of the outstanding dance music clubs in the country. This year's Senior Ball will mark the orchestra's initial appearance in Middlebury, and it is certain that it will make a most favorable impression. At present "Ernie" Andrews and his musicians are playing at the Pyncheon Hotel in Springfield, Massachusetts, and during the coming summer they will be the main attraction at Bayside Pavilion on Lake Champlain near Burlington.

The committee in charge of the Senior Ball consists of Gordon L. Douglas, chairman, and Charles W. Allen, Kenneth E. Higgins, Helen Walters, Dorothy Pollard, and Elizabeth Cady.

Dean Wiley to Secure Tickets for Grads

space makes it necessary to limit the tickets for the Commencement Exercises. Seniors themselves will be assigned special places and will not need tickets for their personal use. There will be a block of unticketed seats in the gallery on the Seymour street side of the church where additional guests of Seniors may find accommodations.

The Commencement Dinner

Each Senior is entitled to one free ticket for the Commencement Dinner, Monday, June 17. The charge for guests is $1.00 each. The number of seats is limited to 300 and as there are usually more desiring to attend than can be accommodated it is necessary to require those desiring tickets to make application in advance. Application should be made at the Alumni Headquarters at the Library between 2:30 P. M. Friday, June 14 and Sunday noon, June 16. Definite seat assignments will be ready at the Alumni Headquarters by 9 A. M. Monday, June 17. Tickets not called for by 12:45 P. M. Monday, June 17 will be placed on general sale.

The Luncheon at Bread Loaf.

Seniors and their guests are welcome to attend the luncheon at Bread Loaf on Sunday, June 16. The charge for the luncheon is $1.25 a plate. Reservations may be made at the Alumni Office, 4 Old Chapel. Tickets not called for by 12:30 P. M. Sunday, June 16, will be placed on general sale.

STAFFS FOR BREAD LOAF SCHOOLS ANNOUNCED BY DEAN

Robert M. Gay to Direct Conference of Writers.

Plans for the Bread Loaf Writers Conference indicate a program of talks on short story, novel, poems, essay, and criticism under the direction of a staff of six prominent writers, with Robert M. Gay serving as Director, according to announcement of Dean Wilfred Davison of the Bread Loaf School of English, as a section of which the Conference has been conducted for three seasons.

The staff for the fourth session, which will be held at Bread Loaf Inn from August 19 to 31, consists of Robert M. Gay, who will be in charge of the administration, Margaret Widdemer, Hervey Allen, Gorham Munson, Edith R. Mirrielees, and Edward Weeks. In addition to their talks on the various forms of writing from the professional point of view, the members of the staff will arrange individual conferences regarding manuscripts brought by the students.

Dr. Gay is exceptionally well qualified for his work as Director through his experience as a writer, a teacher of writing, and his intimate knowledge of the Conference as a member of the staff in 1926 and 1928. He is known as a frequent contributor to the Atlantic Monthly, for his biography of Emerson, his books on writing, and as the editor of "The College Book of Verse", and "The College Book of Prose", recently announced for immediate publication.

Hervey Allen is outstanding among the younger American writers as poet, novelist, and biographer. Among his highly successful volumes are "Earth Moods", a collection of poems; "Towards the Flame", a war novel; and "Israfel", his distinguished biography of Poe.

Margaret Widdemer is widely known for her brilliant work as poet, novelist, and lecturer. Among the many books of which she is the author are "The Haunted Hour", "Collected Poems", and "Rhinestones".

Gorham Munson has had wide experience as biographer, critic, and magazine editor. He is known as one of the most thoughtful of the younger critics, and his essays on humanism and his reviews published in the leading journals have aroused much interest. Among his books are "Robert Frost: A Study in Sensibility and Good Sense", "Destinations, Style and Form in American Prose".

Edith Mirrielees is both a writer of excellent short stories which have found a place in the anthologies and an authority on the art of the short story. Her recently published volumes "Writing Short Stories" and "Significant Contemporary Stories" are already recognized as among the best of their kind.

Edward Weeks is Editor of the Atlantic Monthly Press and a contributor to various magazines. As a member of the staff of the Atlantic Monthly, Mr. Weeks has had varied experience in editorial work, and in former years was associated in both sales and publishing work with the firm of Horace Liveright.

During the Conference the students will have opportunity of hearing informal talks on writing by authors and critics who will visit Bread Loaf for short periods. Among the visitors will be the founder of the Conference, John Farrar, associate editor of Doubleday, Doran & Co., under whose direction the Conference was conducted for three years; Joel E. Spingarn, whose essay, "Creative Criticism", has been so widely influential in recent critical thinking; Louis Untermeyer, poet and critic, author of "Challenge", "American Poetry Since 1900", "Modern American Poetry", etc.; Zephine Humphrey Fahnestock, author of "Winterwise", and Mr. Fahnestock, Zona Gale, author of "Miss Lulu Bett", "Birth", etc. has indicated that she hopes to visit the Conference. It is probable that other names will be added to the list of visitors.

Peisch Addresses Students On Subject of Accounting

Professor Archie M. Peisch of the Tuck School of Business Administration at Dartmouth College spoke on the subject "Accounting as a Profession for College Men", Thursday evening in the lecture room of the Chemistry Building. Students interested in the subject attended the lecture as well as arranged appointments with the speaker.

Professor Peisch is an able man in his field, being a member of the American Institute of Accountants. He impressed his audience with the importance of keeping one's own accounts as well as those of others. The salaries gained by expert accountants are lucrative, but as in every worthwhile profession extensive preparation is necessary. Accuracy, a keen mind and ability for hard, concentrated work are the chief attributes of a good accountant.

LOCAL CHAPTER OF PHI BETA KAPPA TO EMPLOY NEW RULES

Election To Be At End of Either Junior or Senior Year.

Feeling that certain changes in the standards of eligibility and scholarship required for elections to Phi Beta Kappa were necessary to improve conditions, the Middlebury chapter of the national fraternity has revised the present requirements, according to a recent statement issued by Professor R. H. White, secretary.

For the past two years, the Executive Committee of the Middlebury Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa has been studying the problem of the rules for election of new members to his Chapter. Two new elements have entered to necessitate a revision of the present rules.

First, Middlebury College has reorganized its curriculum on the basis of year courses instead of semester courses. For this reason, midyear marks are now only tentative. It is therefore inadvisable to elect undergraduates in the middle of Senior year, on three and one-half years' work, as heretofore.

Second, the present fraction limit of 20% of each class is considerably larger than that usual in other institutions. However, in practice, this fraction has rarely been filled. It was felt that to decrease the fraction would merely square the rule with the practice, and at the same time put us officially on a par with the practice of other Chapters.

The Chapter, therefore, after due and proper procedure, voted at its meeting on March 14, 1929, to make the following changes in the requirements for election of undergraduate members.

1. Students shall be elected at the beginning of Senior year who, on the basis of three full years' work, have attained an average of 89% or over.

2. Students shall be elected at the end of Senior year who, on the basis of four full years' work, have attained an average of 87.5% or over. (It will be noted that a higher average is required for election at the end of Junior year, but there has been no change in the percentage of 87.5 necessary for ultimate election.)

3. The total number elected from any given class shall not exceed 15% of the total class, men and women being considered separately.

4. Election within this quota shall be made in order of academic rank.

5. These changes shall apply to the Class of 1930 and subsequent classes.

German Club Elects New Officers

The German Club held its final meeting of the year in the form of a bacon bat, Friday, May 17, at Flat Rock. After supper the officers were elected for the coming year. They are: President, Nita Willets '30; Vice-president, Lynn Callin '32; Secretary, Lucy Saunders '31; and Treasurer, Arnold Melbye '32.

GRAY TAYLOR WINS IN FRESHMAN PRIZE SPEAKING CONTEST

Robert Perry, Reamer Kline And Kirkland Sloper Win Awards.

The Parker Prize Speaking contest for freshmen, held Friday evening in Mead Memorial Chapel, was won by Gray N. Taylor speaking on "The Next War". The other contestants were: Robert N. Perry whose subject was "Legalized Lawlessness", Reamer Kline with "The Noble Experiment", Kirkland Sloper on "Aaron Burr, Traitor or Hero?" and Clarence Lilly who spoke concerning "The Future of the American College".

President Paul D. Moody presided at the contest which began promptly at eight o'clock. At the conclusion of the competition, the three judges, Professor V. C. Harrington, Professor C. H. Griffin, and Mr. V. Spencer Goodreds, conferred to decide the selection of the winners. This was done by the point system, according to the content and presentation qualities of the speeches.

Mr. Taylor's speech, with its vivid descriptions, and the smoothness of its presentation, brought out the horrors of war, and especially those that would occur in the next war, were well treated. Mr. Taylor voiced the opinion that another war would bring destruction to the competing countries.

Second prize went to Mr. Perry who presented the problem of reforming our law enforcing machinery to rid the country of the "legalized lawlessness" which is carried on by public officials. He emphasized the fact that the public must be properly educated, and that "there must be mustered into the rank and file far more astute men than have ever served the country before", in order that this question can be solved.

Mr. Kline spoke of prohibition and its very doubtful success during the past ten years. He pointed out that "it still is an experiment, it will always be an experiment, an unfinished experiment, for until human nature is utterly changed there are certain things in which man will not allow his conduct to be determined for him by another."

The many good points of Aaron Burr's character was the subject pursued by Mr. Sloper. He showed the audience that too often the "fictitious stories of contemporary political enemies" destroy for posterity the memory of a man who otherwise might be considered great.

Mr. Lilly discussed the present trend in scholarship lines of our colleges. He predicted that the junior college, the vocational school, and graduate work would play a greater part in the colleges of tomorrow. He further added that the modern cultural college is not producing the effects which are demanded from it.

The first four speakers will receive cash prizes amounting to $50, $35, $25, $20, respectively.

STYLE SHOW AND TEA

A Style Show and Tea was held Tuesday afternoon at 3:45 and 4:30 at the Women's Recitation Hall by the Home Economics Department as the closing event of the year. Costumes for sport, street, afternoon, and evening were modelled by members of both beginning and advanced classes in dressmaking and millinery. Refreshments were served after both presentations.

An exhibit of all work done during the year in dressmaking, millinery and design was held in one of the classrooms.

Harvard Has New Plan for Degrees

In his annual report made to President Lowell, Professor Clifford H. Moore, Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences at Harvard, proposed a plan for the reorganization of study in the Harvard Graduate Schools. He advocated the substitution of general examinations as a requirement for higher degrees instead of mere counting of courses, "since", he said, "it is anomalous to demand a general examination for the lower degree and to allow marks of B in four courses to be the warrant for the higher grades."

Y. W. C. A. To Conduct Store for Used Books

A bookstore for the men's and the women's colleges is being sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. The plan has been adopted whereby books may be left at the Press Club office before college closes, where they will be stored during the summer and sold at the store in the fall.

The Press Club Office, on the top floor of Old Chapel will be open June 8, 10, 12, and 14 from one thirty to three thirty in the afternoon. All those who wish to leave books to be sold should bring them to this room on one of the dates. It is required that the name of the owner, his next year's address and the price that he paid for the book be attached inside the cover of the book. The price of each book will be two thirds that of its cost to the former owner, but in order to avoid error, the price of the book will be computed by those in charge of the bookstore and the owner will state the cost of the book to him.

"BE STRONG" THEME OF VESPERS SERMON

Bishop Atwood, 78, Speaks Of Faith as Necessary to Remedy Evil.

Bishop Atwood, a graduate of Middlebury College in the class of 1878, delivered the address at Vespers, Sunday, May 26. He took for his text the words of Paul, "Be Strong".

He said in part: "These words which Paul wrote when he was grieving because of the paganism which had corrupted the Church he had founded at Corinth, apply to us with the same force today. We are living right now in a world of evil and vice. The great danger, however, lies in being ignorant of the fact. If we are conscious of it, we shall be able to remedy it."

"What is most necessary for us to do is to have faith; both in God and in our fellow men. This faith should be like that of parents and their children, or of two true friends. Added to this faith should be a great deal of courage."

Bishop Atwood concluded by saying, "We must not believe that Jesus Christ has lived, suffered, and died in vain. He came to break down partitions and to found the Republic of God, having a divine constitution. The kingdom of this world becomes the Kingdom of Almighty God, and not only a chorus of angels will sing of peace on earth and good will to men."

American Mercury to Sponsor Essay Contest

An opportunity to discuss the merits of college life is being given by the American Mercury in the form of an essay contest. The discussion is open to both men and women. Two prizes of five hundred dollars each will be offered for the best essay written by a man and woman, winning contributors. Their articles will appear in the October, 1929, issue of the Mercury. The following rules and conditions are fixed:

1. No article should be less than 3000 words long, or more than 8000.
2. Each must be the original work of a student, graduating from an American college with the class of 1929, and taking the A. B. degree or its equivalent.
3. Each must bear the full name and address of the author, the name of the college attended, a statement of the course followed and the degree to be taken.
4. Each must be accompanied by a stamped and addressed envelope for its return in case it is not accepted.
5. The editor of the American Mercury will be the sole judge of the competition.
6. All manuscripts entered for the prizes should reach the American Mercury at 730 Fifth Avenue not later than August 1, 1929.

ORATORS FROM NEW ENGLAND COLLEGES TO BE IN CONTEST

Twelve Institutions Send Speakers to Zone Finals.

The New England finals of the National Oratorical Contest will be held at the Jones Library, Amherst, Massachusetts, Friday evening, May 31, with twelve colleges competing. Richard H. Amerman '31 will be Middlebury's representative.

This contest, which has been sponsored by the Better America Federation, of California for the past five years, included among this year's participants 28,000 students in universities, colleges, and junior colleges throughout the nation.

The purpose of the country-wide contest is to increase interest in and respect for the Constitution of the United States. As a contribution to better citizenship it aims to stimulate discussion and greater understanding of the government under which we live. Participants may talk upon either the Constitution itself, or the relations to the Constitution of Washington, Hamilton, Jefferson, Marshall, Franklin, Madison, Webster or Lincoln. Each speech is limited to ten minutes, and is judged for both delivery and composition.

Because of the great number of students participating in the contest, it is necessary to have sectional preliminary contests in different parts of the country. The choosing of the entrants for the final competition is done in four stages.

The first stage is that in which the spokesman for each institution is chosen from all the students entering. This selection is made within the institution without the intervention of the national management. College spokesmen were selected prior to April 15, 1929.

In states in which there are a large number of colleges there is a second stage of the competition for the purpose of choosing the champions of states or portions of states. These contests are supervised and controlled by the national management. In several of the larger states it has been necessary to make three or even four subdivisions of participating institutions in order to adequately conduct the competition. All of these state or group college contests were held before April 30.

The third stage of the contest is the national semi-final or zone contests. There are seven of these, the nation being divided for the purpose of this project into seven major zones—New England, Northern, Eastern, Southern, Central, Midwestern, and Pacific. The zone meetings are being held this month in Santa Clara, California; Liberty, Missouri; Evanston, Illinois; Asheville, North Carolina; Washington, D. C.; State College, Pennsylvania; and Amherst, Massachusetts. The Amherst contest is the New England competition, and the one in which the Middlebury College entry is entitled to participate.

Twelve colleges will be represented at the Amherst contest among which will be Brown, Dartmouth, Boston University, Amherst, Middlebury, Holy Cross, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Rhode Island State, Springfield, University of Vermont, Wesleyan and Yale.

The New England zone meeting, and the six other sectional contests, lead to the fourth and last stage of the competition, the national finals, to be held in Los Angeles, June 30. Each zone winner goes to the national finals, and each will be a prize winner. The awards at Los Angeles will be as follows: first, $1500, second, $1000, third, $750, fourth, $550, fifth, $450, sixth, $400, seventh, $350. The value of these prize awards totals $5000.

This is the first time that Middlebury has been represented in the zone finals, and it is hoped that this year's participation will be of material value in arousing a more substantial interest in years to come.

The subject of the speech which Mr. Amerman will deliver in the Amherst competition will be "Hamilton and the Constitution."

The man who never makes any blunders seldom makes any good hits.

professionally in writing and who have manuscripts ready for criticism. The business administration of the Conference is in general charge of Dean Wilfred Davison, who will gladly furnish information to Middlebury students and alumni. A bulletin telling about the Conference is now being printed.

Administrative Staff.

The Administrative Staff of the School consists of President Paul D. Moody, Director of the Summer Session, Wilfred Davison, Dean, and Pamela S. Powell, Secretary and Registrar of the Summer Session.

The Dean's assistants next summer are Howard C. Seymour (Middlebury 1927), Charles Malam (Middlebury 1928), and Samuel J. Abbott, Jr. Raymond Bosworth will assist in the dramatic department. The Librarians are Ethel C. Crockett, A. M., and Katherine Neptune, A. B.

Bread Loaf Inn, in which the School is housed, is under the general management of J. J. Fritz, Business Manager of Middlebury College, who will be assisted again next summer by Arnold B. Swift, B. S. (Middlebury 1922), Resident Manager of the Inn, and Mrs. Kate Holbrook, Hostess. The Inn will open this year June 25 and will close September 6.

The opening exercises of the School of English will be held on the evening of July 3, at which time the principal address will be given by Dr. Edward D.

Collins, formerly Director of the Summer Session, and the Originator and Founder of the Bread Loaf School of English.

The annual bulletin of the School and a special anniversary bulletin have recently been published. Very few places remain available for the coming season, and the indication is that there will be a considerable waiting list this year of those who want to attend the School.

Plans are nearly ready for announcement regarding the fourth session of the Bread Loaf Writers Conference, which will be held this year from August 19 to 31.

Joint Informal Held

At the Chi Psi Lodge

A joint informal dance was held by members of Chi Psi and Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternities at the Chi Psi lodge Saturday evening, May 25. Twenty-two couples were present to enjoy the music rendered by an abbreviated edition of the Black Panther Serenaders, consisting of Hal Higgins '29, E. E. Waite '29, and Kenneth Simpson '31.

Between dances, as one of the features of the evening, moving pictures were shown of the recent athletic contests of the college, and other events of general interest. The pictures were taken by W. W. Wheatley '30.

Patrons and patronesses for the evening included: Dr. and Mrs. Stanton S. Eddy, and Professor and Mrs. Phelps N. Swett.

TRACK MEN CAPTURE STATE TITLE

BASEBALL TEAM WINS TWO OF THREE; LOSES HEARTBREAKER TO VERMONT

Breaks Enable U. V. M. to Eke Out Victory on Three Hits.

COOK PITCHES GREAT BALL ONLY TO LOSE

Panther Beats Mass. Aggies 3-2; Whips Mikemen 19 to 3.

The Middlebury baseball nine lost the most heartbreaking game of the season to Vermont Monday at Centennial Field in Burlington by the score of 4 to 2. Although outslugging the Cats—mounts eight hits to three, close decisions on the bases broke wrong at inopportune moments and enabled the Green and Gold to squeeze out a very indecisive win. Cook pitched great ball for the Panther, but could not get the luck that the Vermont pitcher had with him.

Franzoni started off Middlebury's first inning with a neat single over second base, but was forced at second by Jacobs after Hasseltine had fanned. Humeston caught hold of a fast one and drove it all the way to the left field bleachers for a triple scoring Jacobs. "Dick" was thrown out trying to stretch the hit into a homer.

Vermont retaliated in their half of the inning and after Jay had been given a free ticket to first, Winant slashed a hit to the right field fence for a home run.

There was not much further excitement until the sixth inning although Vermont managed to get men on the paths at times by getting advantage of close decisions on the bases. "Cookie" walked the first two men to face him in the sixth, although the breaks in the calling of the balls and strikes might have meant strike-outs if they had come his way. The Kittens started their bunting game and when Sorensen muffed Cook's throw to get Morse, Vermont scored two more runs. The next three men were tossed out, but the damage had been done and the Green and Gold had scored two runs with nary a hit.

The Panther was hitting the ball, but there were Vermont fielders present to block every smash. A storm started to brew in the eighth after Kelley had singled. The next two batters flied out, but Franzoni was given a free ticket to first and there were two on. Hasseltine caught hold of a fast one and sent a terrific drive into right field, but Howard just managed to snare it and the rally was stopped.

After Humeston had beaten out an infield hit and Crocker, who had gone in for Sorensen, had singled in the ninth, Kelley again hit safely to score Humeston, but Willis was out to end the game and give Vermont the State Championship.

Middlebury 3; M. A. C. 2

The Panther nine celebrated its return home last Friday after a ten days period of road games with a 3 to 2 victory over Mass. Aggies. Spooner and Bowie hooked up in a neat pitchers' duel and after the smoke of battle had cleared, the Middlebury twirler had chalked up his first win.

Spooer retired the Aggies with difficulty in the first inning, but escaped damage. The Panther however, started off with a bang and although Olson was caught off first after walking, hits by Hasseltine and Humeston coupled with Franzoni's walk scored two runs.

Sorensen scored the other run all by himself, circling the bases on a long hit to right center which Ellert muffed after trying to make a shoestring catch and which rolled nearly to the fence. The Aggies combined a triple and a double in the second for a run. Two singles and a fielder's choice gave them the other in the seventh.

Middlebury 19; St. Michaels' 3

Middlebury bats wreaked havoc with the St. Michaels' team last Wednesday and 16 hits combined with seven bases on balls and nine errors gave the Blue and White a 19 to 3 win. Cook held the

TENNIS TEAM WINS TWO OUT OF THREE

Defeats St. Mike's and N. Y. State Teachers; Loses to Worcester Tech.

The Middlebury Tennis team came back strong by winning two out of three matches played this week. On Wednesday, May 22, the team played St. Michael's at Winooski and won by the score of 4-2. Saturday the strong Worcester Tech team defeated the Middlebury racket men in a drizzling rain by the score of 5-1. New York State Teachers was met on Monday on Hepburn Courts and was beaten by the score of 4-2.

Worcester Tech.

Captain Woodbury was the only winner for Middlebury, for he won a hard three set match from Corsini, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4. But "Woodie" had to extend himself to the utmost in order to win. In the first set, Woodbury playing his steady choppy game won easily, but in the second set, Corsini came back with powerful smashing and volleying which Woodbury could not return. The third set was a hard battle in a down-pour of rain. "Woodie" going up to the net, placed some beautiful shots on the sidelines which gave him the match and Middlebury's only point.

Alberts, number two man for Worcester, with a cannon-ball service, won from Sun 6-3, 6-4. Daland lost to Collins, a player with a remarkable net game by 6-1, 6-1. Cotton won from Morize by 6-3, 6-0.

The first doubles match was the best exhibition of tennis seen on our courts this season. Corsini and Alberts defeated Woodbury and Sun in a match which was carried to three sets. The Middlebury men, meeting the ball with decisive power, won the first set 8-6. Sun, with superb back-hand returns across the courts, won point after point. Corsini and Alberts showed the smoothest kind of team work, rarely clashing on the court. Each was always sure of his position. Corsini, with deep smashes, won the second and third set for Worcester by 6-2, 6-2. Bemiss and Morize lost to Collins and Cotton after a hard fought match, which took three sets, the invaders winning 6-1, 2-6, 6-2.

St. Michael's.

Captain Woodbury with his chop-stroke placed at each corner of the back court had no trouble winning from Caron 6-1, 6-3. Daley, St. Michael's Number two man, was the outstanding player on the opposing team. He won the match after a long three set struggle by the score of 4-6, 14-12, 6-4. The first set, Sun, with steady drives to the base line won easily. However, in the second set, Daley a much improved player, came back strongly. Sun's strokes lacked the pace and depth, and Daley was putting the ball on top of the base line, and yielding only a few errors, he finally won the set at 14-12. Daley keeping up in his steady strokes was the winner in the final set by the score of 6-4, thus winning the match after a three hour struggle. Daland came back in the second and third sets after dropping the first set by 4-6 to win from Carby by his well placed drives, 6-3, 6-3. Morize lost to Brown by 6-3, 6-4.

The two teams were deadlocked at two all, but a sweep in the two doubles won for Middlebury. Woodbury and Sloper, the old formation, won from Caron and Carby 4-6, 6-3, 6-3. Sloper's service and Woodbury's lob were the main factors in this victory. Daland and Morize won easily from Brown and Camp 6-3, 6-3.

New York State Teacher's College.

Woodbury won from Herney in two straight sets 6-3, 6-3. Woodbury kept up his chopping game which bothered Herney many times. Sun beat Sprague by steady and well placed drives in a back court and smashing ball after

Sports

On and Off the Campus

Cook sure deserved to win the Vermont game if he deserved to win any game. The "Red-head" allowed only three hits and struck out seven men. It looked to us as though his slants were cutting the corners of the plate nicely, but the umpire seemed to think differently for the most part. If the breaks had been even 50-50 the game would have been in the bag, but as it was the Panther did not get a single one.

The umpiring on the bases was the worst we have seen in many a moon. It does not seem right that an umpire should stand in the middle of the diamond on a third base play. If a man is supposed to be umpiring on the bases, it seems as though he should be at the scene of play in order to make his decisions right. Seymore did not seem to think so however.

Franzoni played one of the best games of his career. The short stop got two neat singles and a walk in four times up. He also dashed out into short right field near the foul line to snare a fly from the bat of Jay in the fifth inning for the prize fielding gem of the day.

After "Cookie" had had two close base decisions go against him in the seventh inning, he got a little peeved and proceeded to strike the next three batters out.

Hasseltine's drive in the eighth inning was labeled for a sure hit, but Howard just happened to be in a position to snare it. If it had been a foot or two on either side of him, he would never have got it. It looked like a homer, but no luck.

The boys were under a great strain and looked it, but they played nice ball and with a little luck would have won.

As usual, the track team cleaned up nicely in the state meet. The big surprise this year was the power of the Norwich team. Of late, Norwich has been running a poor third, but they nearly doubled Vermont's score this season. The Cadets dominated the javelin throw completely and took all three places. Coach Beck's cinder path stars took every first place in the track events except the hurdles.

Blue to Trim Norwich Thursday.

Coach Hessler will lead his baseball nine to Northfield Thursday for the annual Memorial Day game with Norwich. The boys had hard luck in the Vermont game and are out to wreak their wrath on Norwich. It should be a different story in this contest than in the Junior Week game.

Cook is slated to take the mound against the Cadets and should win handily. Vermont took two games from Norwich and Middlebury has just as good a team as the Cats any day in the week.

Last year, Norwich won one game and tied the other on errors. This year, the Cadets managed to win the first game, but they should be taken over the bumps in the second. If "Red" pitches like he pitched in his two games against Vermont, the hard hitting Cadets should find their batting average considerably lowered. W.S.Y.

ball whenever at the net. Daland had no trouble winning from Tarbox 6-1, 6-2. Cooper beat Morize in a match which lasted over two hours, by 8-6, 7-5. In the doubles Herney and Tarbox played some good tennis. Tarbox's drives and Woodbury's net game were the outstanding features of the match. Middlebury won by 6-4, 3-6, 6-4. Sprague and Cooper won easily from Daland and Bemis by the score of 6-1, 6-2. R. M.

MIDDLEBURY EASILY GAINS CONFERENCE CHAMPIONSHIP FOR THIRD STRAIGHT WIN

PANTHER GOLFERS WIN FROM NORWICH

First of State Matches Won 5-1 Over Course at Burlington.

The Middlebury Golf Team defeated Norwich at Burlington last Thursday by the score of 5 to 1. Playing steady golf over the picturesque course, the Panther golfers completely subdued the Cadets. Winning four singles matches and one of the foursomes, the Blue men started their state championship drive right. The results:

Foursomes: Bullock and Lincoln (N) defeated Weston and Owen (M) 4 and 3. L. Riccio and D. Riccio (M) defeated Bastian and Foster (N) 3 and 2.

Twosomes: Weston (M) defeated Bullock (N) up in 19 holes. D. Riccio (M) defeated Bastian (N) 5 and 3. Tibone defeated Lincoln (N) 5 and 3. L. Riccio (M) defeated Foster (N) 3 and 2.

The Middlebury team plays Vermont over the Burlington links today and this contest will complete the first year that the state colleges have held a championship tournament in golf.

WOMEN'S "M" CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The Women's "M" Club held a bacon bat at Bittersweet Falls last Wednesday afternoon. The party left about 4:30 and returned during the evening. During the bat the following officers were elected for the year: Eleanor Kocher '30, president; Elizabeth Parker '30, secretary-treasurer.

JUNIOR GIRLS ARE BASEBALL CHAMPS

The Juniors defeated the Sophomores 28-27 in the final round of the inter-class baseball competition played at the gymnasium last Friday. The Seniors defeated the Freshmen 14-7 in the game played at the gymnasium last Wednesday. Following is the line-up for the Junior-Sophomore game:

In accordance with the slogan of "athletics for everyone", it was recently decided at a meeting of the Yale Athletic Board to add ten more acres to the already large Yale athletic fields.

Dr. Davis, president of Stevens Institute of Technology, recently stated in an address that higher tuition fees would solve the problem of financing colleges.

Almost 15,000 persons are partaking of the correspondence courses and extension classes at the University of Wisconsin.

Psychology, the small educational brain germ, mauled about and abused recently in curricula criticism, is now the victim of Yale senior derogation. English is considered the most valuable college subject and psyc is the least valuable, according to a majority of the alumni of Yale University.

Scores 68 Points to 42 for Norwich and 25 for Vermont.

MANY RECORDS FALL IN PANTHER VICTORY

Blue and White Totals 10 First Places; Excels in Running Events.

The Middlebury track team easily won the Green Mountain Conference title at Burlington Saturday afternoon by scoring 68 points to 42 for Norwich and 25 for Vermont. Dalton in a beautiful race, nosed out Hinckley, the Norwich two-miler, for a new state record of 10 minutes 4 3-5 seconds which is almost 9 seconds better than the former record of 10 minutes 13 1-2 seconds for this distance. "Dick" Paul broke the State and College record in the pole-vault by clearing the bar at 11 feet 8 inches. This is 8 inches better than the Middlebury record established by him at the first of the season and two inches higher than the former state record. Another state record fell when Taylor of Norwich threw the javelin 167 feet 2 inches outdistancing the former record of 166 feet 6 inches by 8 inches. Captain "Gil" Smith tied the state record for the 100 yard dash by running the distance in 10.1 seconds. Two more Blue and White men established new records when Goltry ran the quarter in 52 4-5 seconds and Guarnaccia hurled the discus 121 feet 3 inches.

Except in the hurdles, the Panther took every first place in the running events and four first in the field events. The javelin throwers had a bad day and the big Norwich men took all three places in this event. The Norwich men also outdid the home team in both hurdle races by taking first and second while Vermont took the same places in the broad jump.

Summary:

100 Yard Dash—Won by Smith (M); Goltry (M) second; Richmond (N) third. Time: 10.1s. (Ties State Record).
220 Yard Dash—Won by Smith (M); Richmond (N) second; Berry (V) third. Time: 22 2-5s.

Base Ball Team Wins Two Out of Three

Purple lads to three hits for eight innings and then gave way to McDermott. Thirteen men whiffed the ozone vainly only to fall victims to Cook's slants while McDermott added insult to injury by striking out two more in the one inning he worked.

The game was wild and wooly from beginning to end with Middlebury scoring two runs in the opening frame to start off with and then Cook wall-lapping a homer to end the scoring in the ninth frame. Cross' homer gave St. Michaels' two runs in the third, but the Purple was unable to do much further damage.

School. She was also a member of the Middlebury French Summer Session staff of 1926, and is returning this summer.

Mlle Germaine Le Cossec, instructor in French for the past year, has also resigned. She will, however, be a member of the staff for the coming Summer Session. In her place, Mlle Marguerite Vidon has been secured. Mlle Vidon has been for three years instructor in French pronunciation, diction, and phonetics for Foreign Students, at the University of Grenoble, France, both summer and winter sessions. She has also had extensive experience in the organization of social life for foreign students at the Villa Vidon in Grenoble.

A sister, Mme Varney, is assistant to Professor Pernot, director of the Institute de Phonétique at the Sorbonne. M. Jean Ehrhard, assistant professor of French for the past year, has accepted an appointment as assistant professor of Romance Languages at the University of Michigan. Professor Ehrhard graduated last year from the Ecole Normale Supérieure at Paris, receiving the title of "agregé" at the head of his class, the highest competitive honor that can be given in the French university system. His appointment at the University of Michigan is a notable advancement, and Middlebury, although regretting to lose him, heartily congratulates him. He will also remain for the Summer Session, teaching a course in French civilization.

In his place, M. Jean Boorsch has been appointed. M. Boorsch is a school-mate of M. Ehrhard at the Ecole Normale Supérieure, candidate for the "agregation" this summer, and comes most highly recommended by well-known professors at the Sorbonne, and by M. Desclous, assistant director of the Office National des Universités Françaises, who has twice visited Middlebury. M. Boorsch has had a brilliant career at the Ecole Normale, and has had an important part in organizing international student conferences at Paris. He has also been active in the Institute of International Cooperation, which is a branch of the League of Nations at Geneva. M. Boorsch has special interest in Greek and French literature, aesthetics and history. At Middlebury next year he will teach advanced and graduate courses in French literature and civilization.

similar frivolities, come in for their full share of the author's humorous sarcasm, and the result was intensely amusing to the entire audience. In fact we saw even the Dean laughing quite heartily at the excellence and perfection of Mr. Lawson's satire. The plot of the play was very simple, and included only two characters, designated as "male" and "female". These roles were played by Thomas Heney '30, and Elizabeth Moyle '31. Both of the characters discharged the rather unusual requirements of their parts with praiseworthy perfection.

The other play of the evening was "The Tenth Word", by Eloise White, '29, of Fort Washington, Pa. The plot of the play involves the marriages of one Barbara Lloyd and her aunt, Miss Lip-pincott, to gentlemen who do not appear in the play. However in view of the absence of the grooms the marriages are accomplished by telegraph, which turns out to be a very efficient method. But lest there be any mistake or irregularity, the characters are married later in person in the customary and approved fashion. The action of the play takes place in a Western Union office in Philadelphia, and the set was exceedingly effective. The leading male part in the play, that of the telegraph operator, was taken by Robert Spencer '31. His interpretation was for the most part very good, but in places fell slightly below his former standards. Margaret Lackie '29 in the role of Barbara handled her part with great skill, as did Geraldine Griffin '31, who took the part of her maiden aunt. Mary Hough '31 and Robert Burrows '32, both playing minor roles, were very effective.
